

ONE ENJOYS
the method and relieves when up of Figs taken; it is pleasant and nutritious, and will be easily digested by the system, and cures the most diseases and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the remedy of its kind ever proposed, pleasing to the taste and active and truly beneficial in its action, and the most excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it
most popular remedy known.
Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c
$1 bottles by every leading druggist. Any reliable druggist who does not have it on hand will provide it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept substitutes.

New Year Greetings.
With the advent of 1890 the customary congratulations of a new year are extended to the patrons of the GAZETTE, many of whom have continued their support and good wishes through the twenty-five years of its continuance, and contributed to its success by their patronage in printing and advertising. That their days may be prolonged and the year to them be a happy one, is the wish of the publisher.

to finish these piles securely, some cards, to bring them to a standstill. Some of these cards were folded, and others were torn, and those folded, to be addressed, and some invented envelopes to contain.

life of an English paper—when it dropped a hole-hag into one of pup. When the workmen colored paper they were sure, and their employer was so annoyed at the mischance that his wife did not know what to do.

The paper was stored for a damaged lot, and finally the owner sent it to his agent in London, who brought it back to America, and then marked it for her own.

It was rapidly sold at an advanced rate, manufacturer found it difficult, at once, the great demand for paper.—Yester's Companion.

Many parts of each State and Territory in the United States are shown in detail, with their boundaries, state and county boundaries, roads, railroads, towns, cities, post offices, etc., and with their respective areas, populations, and the value thereof.

Also maps of each Foreign Country, showing its boundaries, roads, railroads, towns, cities, post offices, etc., and with their respective areas, populations, and the value thereof.

Also many valuable tables of trade, religion, population, etc., and also tables of the number of cattle, sheep, and a vast amount of information.

Every family should have one.

Newspaper readers are constantly reading it for reference, and it is surprised how many persons who are not familiar with the book are greatly interested in it.

It is the best book for the family library.

Flag Presentations.

The following letters referring to the presentation of flags to various schools are herewith appended:

E. Waymouth, Jan. 16, 1890.

My Dear Miss Belcher, Principal Washington School.

We take pleasure in presenting to the school over which you have charge, the "Star Spangled Banner." No greater honor can be paid to any school than this. It is very likely that some of your scholars will hereafter be engaged in some form of their country's service, and will then remember, with increased devotion to her interests, the old flag under which they pursued their youthful studies.

Very truly yours,

D. S. LOVELL,

CHAR. S. REDMOND.

EAST WEYMOUTH, Jan. 20, '90.

Dear Sirs—Please accept through me the thanks of the Washington school in consideration of your patriotic gift of the National Flag. We shall value it highly, and it is a mark of our friendliness and mutual agreement to keep surroundings, but also for the other and primary purpose, that of keeping always in the mind of the rising generation, the duty which they owe to their country. We feel proud to find that there are those, who even in times of peace and prosperity, have still that patriotism and love of country, a sense of right and wrong, that would prompt them to the donation of so judicious a gift.

Yours,

MARTHA E. BELCHER,

Prin. Washington School.

To Messrs. Benj. S. Lovell, Chas. S. Redmond.

EAST WEYMOUTH, Jan. 18, 1890.

Miss Mary A. Dae, Principal of Middle Street School.

I desire to present you to the Middle street school our country's flag. As the symbol of national prosperity and good government, we are all bound to help in your daily work and help to make good citizens of those committed to your care.

Without them the blessings of free government would not long endure. It seems fitting therefore, that the boys and girls of today who are to be the men and women of tomorrow, should be taught patriotism and taught to appreciate what was wrought for them in the days that tried men's souls.

Sir—We acknowledge and gratefully accept the beautiful flag which you have presented to the Middle street school. We regard it as a token of generosity and kindly interest in the welfare of the pupils of that school.

It is a great privilege to be associated with the public schools of the town, and when a young man entered the employ of his uncle, intending to learn the carpenter business, but finding this not suited to his taste he went into the employ of Ethan Allen as an apprentice to the carpenter's trade; after entering into the carpenter's business, he carried on until four years ago, when he sustained an injury to his head while at work at Nantasket by a man falling upon him from a ladder, this injury, which caused him to give up business, finally culminating in paralysis of the brain, from which he died.

I am now engaged in carrying on the business on the understanding business, after taking his son William T. into business, who has since carried it on under the old firm name, until recently. While in the carpentering business he built a large number of dwellings in Weymouth and vicinity, also the Temple of Home building.

J. F. A. Torrey's shoe manufacturing, also the building of the building on Middle street, at the Old North and Hingham, John Carroll's factory, which was burned, house and shop of James H. Clapp, Joseph Rogers' residence at Shaw's Corner, R. V. Merchant's building, the shop and store, which was built and stood on the site of Merchant's block, the Bay State Hammock Co. building at No. Weymouth, besides many stores in Weymouth.

In 1845 a movement was made to establish a lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in East Weymouth and many of the meetings were held at the schoolroom of Mr. Rice, who remained until four years ago, when he sold his schoolroom to his son William T., who became the charter member of a Masonic Lodge, which was established August 22, 1845. Mr. Rice has always retained his membership in this lodge and in his younger days seldom missed attending the regular meetings, death the lodge losses a valued and honored member.

August 11, 1853, Mr. Rice was united in marriage by Rev. Lewis Bates to Abby Ann, daughter of Jacob and Nahab Lineback Bates. Three children have been born—two sons, Josiah and William T. and one daughter, Lydia, the wife of John P. Lovell, who with his widow are the loss of a beloved husband and father.

Funeral services were held from his late residence on Commercial street yesterday afternoon, and were largely attended by his many friends and former business associates. Rev. Merrill Blanchard, pastor of the Congregational church, conducted the services. The organist was a quartette composed of Mr. B. S. Lovell, Mrs. R. E. Raymond, Mr. Robert F. Raymond, Mr. Minot P. Garey, who rendered "I cannot always trace the way" and the "Sweet and by" in impressive manner.

Afterwards the house remains were taken to the church, where the remains were laid to rest in the adjoining crypt.

The services were held at the Weymouth Cemetery and escorted to the East Weymouth Cemetery last Friday evening, after which there had been performed, Messrs. Jason Gardner, Amos Turrell, Nathaniel Goodspeed, Henry F. Nickell, E. C. Raymond and Geo. W. French, of Crescent Lodge, acting as pall bearers.

45 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK, 2d December, 1880.

TO OUR AGENTS:

Gentlemen.—By the recent conflagrations at LYNN and BOSTON, I estimate the aggregate loss of this company at $275,000.

The great loss of property which has been a prominent feature in the practice of this company since its organization into the United States 41 years ago, it is likely that the entire sum named will be disbursed within the next fortnight. Already some losses have been adjusted and settled.

To satisfy the claims now under consideration, as well as the ordinary losses of the company, no realization of securities will be necessary, the same always retaining a sufficient balance to meet the demands of the insurance companies for payment of claims.

I have had experience in all kinds of insurance business, and am confident in all requirements of the law.

The present seems a favorable opportunity to once more place before your clients the merits of this company.

Clients may rest assured that their liability to satisfy (and, we believe liberally) claims so far tried in litigation will be that of CHICAGO in '81 and BOSTON in '82; and now, whilst the losses sustained by our Company are comparatively insignificant, your clients may well, in view of possibilities so clearly brought to their attention by the recent conflagrations, inquire anew as to our resources and reputation. Yours very truly,

HENRY W. EATON, Resident Manager.

Since date of above circular, many of the claims at LYNN and BOSTON have been settled. In accordance with the variable practice of the Company, all losses are paid as soon as adjusted WITHOUT DISCOUNT.

Fire Losses paid in the U. S. exceed $16,000,000.

The Pastor.Several of the members of the congregation of the Union Cong' church of Weymouth and Braintree would be pleased to learn that Mr. Stiles, the pastor of that church, and we are requested to publish the following sketch of Mr. Stiles from the Weymouth Journal.

The Story of Mr. Stiles' Ministerial Career.

Mr. Rev. C. S. Stiles is a native of Maine.

His early life having been spent in the town of New Haven, his mother still lives at an advanced age.

He joined the Universalist church of that place when about eighteen years of age. At twenty-one he went to Tufts Theological seminary, preparing for the ministry. He took up the study of law, and, at the same time, various branches in the college, professor, graduating in 1856. He then had a brief pastorate at Orleans, Mass., where he was married. From this place he was called to the Universalist church at New Bedford. During this period he became a member of the Free Soil party, and through the lectures of Rev. Joseph Cook, by a correspondence which he opened with the venerable Dr. Park of Andover, by a renewed study of the Scriptures and other means, he was converted to the cause of the Free Soil party.

It is a fact worth of imitation by many more of our more modern Illinois Universalists, that, though hungry and famished mortal error had almost driven him to despair, he appeared his glowing hunger, and was over turned empty away from her or her husband's door. We remember these early days of 1845 to 1850, when the evening meetings of the Free Soil party, at the home of Mr. Stiles over, in Weymouth, were a modern miracle of grace.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

During his residence in Brooklyn, Mr.

Stiles belonged to the New York and Brooklyn Association, and was the author and editor of the Anti-Slavery Standard, a newspaper of the Free Soil party.

He was a man of great intelligence and genius, and liberal to a fault, his husband was a man of great tact and moderation.

He was a man of great energy and open-handed liberality.

She was a worthy and exemplary member of the church, which she joined shortly after her marriage.

Her life was even and quiet, even as the placid bosom of the deep, quiet as the hush of summer's evening, great and grand, because a fitting imitation of her great Master's life had but an influence for good, no matter stormy days, but pleasant

days, and the most peaceful.

An unostentatious pure Christian wife and mother, breathing out her life to her latest husband in gentle blessings on her sisterhood, anxious to depart and be at rest.

As melts away the gentle sun in the sunset's western sky, so did she gently

fall asleep.

Her funeral was largely attended from the M. E. church Dec. 3d, 1880, Rev. J. E.

St. Clair conducting the ceremonies in an eloquent and able discourse very fitting and appropriate to the occasion.

The society passed the following resolutions in memory of her worth and example, Dec. 4, 1880.

indulgent Providence to take out of our circle and from our membership, Sister Lydia sister. Therefore do we tender our sincere sympathy and condolence to the bereaved

husband and family, and will ever revere

her memory, and will strive to emulate her example, and shall ever be at our aid, that last we may join hands with our dear sister on that brighter shore, where faith is lost in sight, and partings and separations are never known, and where the faithful are rewarded with the approval and smile

of our great Master.
